

Dear colleagues,

After careful consideration of the COVID-19 situation, we took the difficult decision to perform online the XIIIth National Medical Physics and Biomedical Engineering Conference 2020 with international participation. The virtual event will consist of a series of webinars, presented by invited lecturers in November 2020. The scientific sessions/webinars can be seen in the program. The abstracts sent by the participants will be reviewed by the Scientific Program Committee and the accepted abstracts will be published in the peer-reviewed interdisciplinary medical journal Folia Medica. Posters of the accepted abstracts will be published online during the event and accessible to all registered participants. Anyone willing to participate will have to register free of charge. The registration fees that have already been paid will be refunded to senders. There will be additional separate registration for the webinars. The webinars link will be available on the Conference website by the end of October.

The new deadline for registration to the Conference is 31 October 2020 and for abstract submission is 5 October 2020.

Looking forward to meeting you online,

The NMPEC 2020 Organizing Committee
